WHY INDONESIA?

Steady Economic Growth

Indonesia as the largest economy in Southeast Asia has recorded an impressive economic growth since overcoming the Asian financial crisis in the late 1990s. The country's GDP per capita has steadily risen from US$807 in 2000 to US$3,877 in 2018.

INDONESIA ANNUAL GDP GROWTH

Today, Indonesia is the world's fourth most populous nation, the world's 10th largest economy terms of purchasing power parity, and a member of G-20. As an emerging middle income country, Indonesia has made incredible achievement in poverty reduction, cutting the poverty rate to more than half, from 23.3% in 1999 to 9.8% in 2018. A report by the World Bank shows that the increasing of the 52 million Indonesian middle class has big impact on the economy as the increasing in disposable income will help Indonesia to improve its business and investment climate.

*) forecast

Fitch Ratings has reaffirmed Indonesia's long-term foreign-currency Issuer Default Rating (IDR) at 'BBB' or investment grade with a Stable Outlook, and also maintained Indonesia's rating on Investment Grade Level. Some of the key factors supporting this decision were the prospect of good economic growth and relatively low government debt burden amid some challenges.

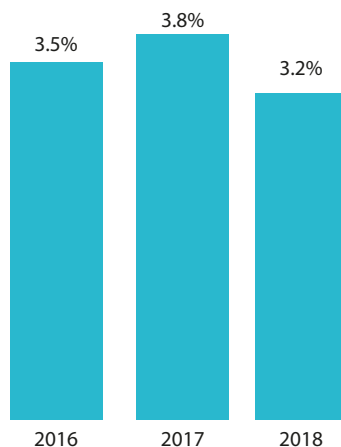

In 2019 Indonesia also achieved a rating upgrade from S&P Global Ratings from 'BBB-' to 'BBB' for its strong economic growth prospects and prudent fiscal policies. This upgrade, brightened by the re-election of President Joko Widodo, has rallied the nation's currency stocks and bond to the new level.

Furthermore, the Asian Development Outlook (ADO) 2019 forecasts Indonesia's economy to grow at 5.2% this year and 5.3% in 2020 due to strong domestic demand and solid macroeconomic management.

This prospect continues to strength compared to peer countries as the domestic demand is expected to remain resilient amid slowing global demand.

Megainfrastructure Projects

Strong investment was driven largely by public infrastructure project in transportation and energy. Therefor Indonesia invests heavily in big infrastructure project such as Mass Rapid Transit (MRT), Bus Rapid Transit (BRT), Railways, Highways, Seaport, Airport, Special Economic Zones, Light Rapid Transit (LRT) projects, the Ring Roads, and many more. With these projects, the people of Indonesia can benefit from infrastructure development, interconnectivity and reduced logistical costs so that economic growth could accelerated.

Doing Business Made Easier

Indonesia is ranked 73 among `90 economies in the ease of doing business, according to the latest World Bank annual ratings. The Ease of doing business index ranks countries against each other based on how the regulatory environment is conducive to business operation and stronger protections of property rights.

With all mentioned above, Indonesia is the best partner for trade, tourism, and investment, as TEI is the first step to experience Indonesia.
